Don't Buy Auto Warranty with Today Only Offers

When you are ready to buy an auto warranty, the very first sign that something is wrong should be if they are pressuring you to transfer the money TODAY:

You: "Thanks for the quote....I'd like to sleep on it first before buying it."

Telemarketer: "I'm sorry but this offer is only good for today. You can't buy tomorrow...just go ahead and give me your credit card info and we'll take care of it right now!"

You can tell when someone is only after your money and when that is the case, you're probably not dealing with a reputable company to buy an auto warranty from.

A long-standing, legitimate company understands if you need to talk to your spouse or partner before you buy an auto warranty. There is no such "special" pricing in the warranty business where the cost of the warranty suspiciously increases overnight because you procrastinated.

Trust me on this one, if they are offering the price today, you should be able to buy the auto warranty for the same price the next day or even a week later.
